

BUCKINGHAM PALACE

11th July 2016

Dear Mrs McMillan,

The Princess Royal has asked me to thank you so much for an extremely interesting and enjoyable visit to Glasgow Airport in your special 50th Anniversary year.

Her Royal Highness was delighted to tour the building, meeting staff en route, and to view the enormous expansions you have carried out over the years and recent renovation projects in hand.

The destinations and passenger growth is outstanding, giving jobs to thousands, but all this involves a huge amount of organisation and work by many people and The Princess was most impressed with all she saw.

Congratulations must go to the Royal Marines Band, the Accordion player and the Glasgow Philharmonic Choir for their delightful entertainment. Talking to employees and, judging by the length of time they stayed, it was clear that working at Glasgow Airport was a good thing to do!

I have been asked to convey Her Royal Highness's warmest thanks for the charming Quaich which will act as a reminder of a very happy visit and to send you every good wish for continued success in the future.

Yours sincerely,

Araminta Ritchie,

Lady in Waiting to
HRH The Princess Royal

Mrs. Amanda McMillan
